EM CASO DE FOGO | IN CASE OF FIRE (2019)

IN CASE OF FIRE is a school film aiming to question the masculinity standards in Portugal, exploring their means of reproduction through youth. Facing closeted fears, this film undergoes a journey of contained and restricted gender and sexual identities.

BIO Tomás Paula Marques was born in Porto (Portugal) in 1994. He studied Arts & Graphic Industries in highschool. In 2013, he enrolled in the Lisbon Theatre and Film School where he studied Directing. In 2015, he was the cinematographer of “A Rapariga de Berlim” by Bruno de Freitas Leal. The year after, his first short film “Sem Armas” premiered in IndieLisboa 2016. On the same year, he started editing: first with the director João Pedro Rodrigues and then with Cristiana Forte and Daniel Veloso. Tomás Paula Marques is currently a master student in Sociology, focused on Gender Studies.
